Middleton native enlists in Tennessee National Guard

MIDDLETON, Tenn. – Pvt. Tyler Dickey graduated from the Army’s Basic Combat Training and the U.S. Army Military Police School at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, on January 15.

During this technical 20-week course, Dickey learned to protect lives and property on military installations, control traffic, prevent crime, and respond to emergencies. As a qualified military police Soldier, Dickey will also conduct force protection, anti-terrorism, area security, police intelligence operations, corrections and detention, and investigations all around the world. He is now assigned to the 268th Military Police Company in Alamo.

“I am thankful for the Tennessee National Guard,” said Dickey. “I look forward to utilizing the abundance of benefits offered to me as a guardsman.”

Dickey is a graduate of Middleton High School and he plans to pursue a career in either law enforcement or business.
